PG & E optimistic for CV natural gas

Natural gas may arrive as far as Carmel Valley Village in a year or a little longer.

Qualified with several "if's," PG&E officials expressed optimism on the possibilities, at a meeting with Valley leaders at CV Golf and Country Club Wednesday noon.

Representing PG&E were Tom Riddle, Monterey District manager; C.A. Hicks, Carmel-Pacific Grove manager, and Douglas Aiken, Coast Valleys Division sales manager, Salinas.

Pres. Rex Pryer of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Assoc. presided and expressed enthusiasm for the proposal.

An application will be submitted by PG&E in the near future to the California Public Utilities Commission to extend up the Valley the existing gas main, which terminates at the Berwick Manor subdivision in mid-valley.

Proposed is an extension of the 8-inch main along Carmel Valley Rd., to Esquiline Rd. on the east edge of Carmel Valley Village, plus nine miles of smaller pipe serving side streets.

PG&E hopes to have permission of the Calif. PUC within two or three months to conduct an initial sign-up of the some 450 potential customers. The PUC generally gives a public utility six months as a sign-up period.

PG&E would be required to

Safeway opening Wednesday

Safeway Stores Inc. has named 7-year veteran employee Kenneth Carroll as manager of its new unit which will open Oct. 19 in the new Carmel Valley Shopping Center.

Carroll started his career with Safeway following service with the U.S. Army in 1959.

Promoted to assistant store manager in Pacific Grove in 1952, he served in the same capacity in Salinas and Gilroy. He was appointed manager of the Watsonville store in December 1965.

Born in Richfield, Ill., Carroll grew up in Centralia, Ill. and attended Centralia JC and Southeastern Missouri State College, majoring in business administration.

He and his wife Doris have two children, Kathy and Kevin.

The new store will have a staff of 35 employees. Most are Safeway-experienced, although a few are local residents hired for initial service in the store. All will undergo extensive training under the direction of Safeway's field-training instructor.

It is estimated that the annual payroll of the new store will exceed $250,000.

Assisting Carroll in supervising the staff will be James E. Kelsey, assistant manager; Joseph F. Graham, produce department manager, and Willard E. Burks, meat department

RUTH ANGELL, (center) ticket chairman for the Community Center Champagne Preview confers with Ralph Botten, manager of the new Valley Cinema. Florence Galloway (right) has been assisting Ruth in preparation for the opening night benefit performance of the movie "Khartoum."

Gala preview party opens Valley Cinema

The gala champagne preview benefiting the Carmel Valley Community Center is only a week away, on Oct. 19, and Ticket Chairman Ruth Angell urges Valleyites to purchase their tickets early as only 400 are available. Regular admission is $5, with reserved seats in the golden circle at $7.50. Tickets are available from members of the Community Center and Youth Organization boards, as well as the General Store, Thunderbird Book Shop, Central Box-Office in Carmel and Abinante's in Monterey.

"Khartoum," the spectacular film depicting the Sudan Wars of the 1880's, starring Lawrence Olivier and Charlton Heston will be shown to the opening night audience. Filmed in the broiling Egyptian desert, it tells the story of battles between the British General Charles ("Chinese") Gordon and the thousands of fez-topped warriors of the Sudanese chief, The Mahdi.

During intermission, guests at the opening night preview will be treated to special live entertainment and a number of gifts from adjacent merchants in the new Carmel Valley Shopping Center will be awarded. Safeway and Steinmetz Pharmacy will contribute merchandise certificates and the Valley Cinema will give two tickets to "Sound of Music," and a pass to the largest family for the next feature, "Fantastic Voyage."

The champagne preview, benefiting the Carmel Valley Community Center and Swimming Pool, begins at 8 p.m.

45 mph speed limit on CV Road restored

The county board of supervisors last week restored the 45 mph speed limit on the four-lane part of Carmel Valley Rd. in the vicinity of the Middle School. It was at the request of Pres. Robert Newton of the Carmel District School Board.

Two weeks ago the supervisors, at the request of County Road Commissioner Bruce McClain, had voted to boost the limit to 55 miles an hour to Boronda Rd., reducing most of the limit from 65 miles an hour.

WHAT IS THE OUTLOOK FOR VARIAN ASSOCIATES?

You can get seven pages of incisive answers — free — from one of the largest research/analysis teams in the nation. It's a new report from Dean Witter & Co. And here are some of the highlights...

Varian common is currently selling at a P/E relationship lower than the average for comparable companies. Yet — close study suggests above average long-term growth in earnings.

Some of the reasons for this outlook?

- Varian research — measured in both men and money — has been kept at a high level.
- Varian management gained valuable insight into business and competitive problems under the pressure of military cutbacks in '63-'64. ■ Varian has achieved a broadened earnings base and above-average growth potentials through acquisitions.

We feel these and other factors promise very bright long-range growth for Varian. But read our complete analysis. For your free copy of our "Varian Report", simply visit any Dean Witter office. Or complete and mail the coupon below...

School safety suffers from new speed law

The board of supervisors have compounded a curious and unfortunate situation about speed limits past schools.

State law automatically prescribes 25 mph as the speed limit past all unfenced schools when children are present or coming and going.

Two weeks ago the supervisors made the speed limit 55 mph on Carmel Valley Rd., including past the Middle and Carmelo Schools. Last week, at the request of Pres. Robert E. Newton of the school board, the supervisors reduced the limit to 45 mph past the Middle School, but kept the 55 mph limit by Carmelo School.

The higher speed limits were passed at the request of County Road Commissioner Bruce McClain. He presented the unique argument that 62% of motorists passing Rancho Rio Vista Dr. on Carmel Valley Rd. exceeded 45 mph, and that if the speed limit were 55 mph, law-breaking would drop to 22%.

This theory would clean up a lot more law-breaking if the speed limit, for example, were raised to 65 mph and would probably eliminate all speeding infractions if the legal limit were made 100 mph.

The fact remains that, in spite of the supervisors and road officials, the speed limit past these schools most of the time week days is 25 mph.

McClain pointed out, with some logic, to The Outlook that a basic problem is state control of highway signs. The state prohibits speed limit signs if they don't cover a situation 24 hours a day, he said. The diamond-shaped "School Zone" sign is supposed to be sufficient to inform motorists tacitly that they should slow down to 25 mph when children are around.

"The law presumes," McClain said, "that when a guy is smart enough to get a driver's license, he knows enough to slow down at a school when students are there." He confessed that, although the law presumes this, a lot of people don't drive this way.

The highway patrol at times works the Carmelo School area, to slow motorists down. But, of course, this is intermittent, and that school is unfenced and is close to the road. The highway patrol has also suggested fencing Carmelo School.

McClain said that some thought has been put on developing a multiple speed-limit sign which could be changed at different times of day. But it is too expensive, he added.

Commented a school official: "The truth is that if a person going 26 mph hit a kid at a school, he's had it with the law!"

Isn't the county asking for a law suit, in case of an accident, for knowingly permitting an illegal school speed limit? The state is at fault, too, for permitting a double-standard situation. But if there is a law on the books, it should be recognized until stricken.

Natural gas

secure a $50 deposit, which would be refundable after the signup effort, from 90% of the potential customers, excluding present all-electric households.

After PUC approval for the survey, PG&E plans to make either door-to-door solicitation or to set up an office in the Village, inviting the public to sign up and make the $50 deposits there.

For example, an allowance of 182 feet is given without charge for a gas-main extension along a street for each house with a gas water heater, range and 100,000 BTU furnace. Beyond this the charge would be $1.80 per foot.

For a service connection from the homeowner property line to the house, the utility company provides free pipe-footage based on gas use. This is 15 feet for a furnace or space heater, 20 feet for water heating, 15 feet for range and 10 feet for gas refrigerator use. Excess pipe charge is $1.20 per foot.

PG&E had previously conditioned its plans for serving the Upper Valley on development of the proposed Rancho Fiesta retirement community. But the present plan is not to wait for Rancho Fiesta and, if it is developed, gas costs to the Upper Valley could be a bit lower than presently estimated.

"The CPUC has certain ground rules for extending natural gas service to new areas such as yours," Riddle explained at the meeting. "This is to assure that you receive dependable service and to provide a structure under which areas asking for service bear any extra costs involved," he said.

"Our job at the moment is trying to determine with a reasonable amount of accuracy the number of the people in this Village area who seriously want gas service extended to here, and we need to know who is willing to pay a substantial deposit of, perhaps, $50. The key question asked by many residents hinges around what the service will cost, and the estimates based on actual service speak for themselves."

SPORTS

Carmel runners score victory against Soquel

Victory—first place among Mission Trail League schools—was scored by Carmel High's varsity cross-country runners at a "center meet" at Soquel High School last Thursday.

The Padres' JV team did itself proud, too, by placing second in the League, close behind Pacific Grove and just ahead of King City (enough!) by a single point.

A total of 15 seven-man teams from as many schools competed in the meet. Bigger schools of the Monterey Bay League as well as the local Mission Trail League took part.

Carmel's varsity came in third in the entire field of both leagues, behind Watsonville which was first and Monterey second.

"I am tickled to death with the performance of all our boys," enthused Coach Lloyd Baskerville. He pointed out that the Padres beat much larger schools of the Monterey Bay League, too, including Salinas and Seaside.

He had special praise for the varsity seven, including Kim Schauer, Noel Mapstead, Kevin Percival, Matt Ward, Mark Eisenhower, Don Hays and Cliff Perry.

Outstanding JV runner was Barry Bates.

A total of 105 boys ran in each race at Soquel. "It was really quite a mob to start out which, because most of our boys are really beginning, proves how well they're doing," Coach Baskerville said.

Cypress Swim Club

In response to numerous requests, the Cypress Swim Club will start an adult group for the first time this Wednesday evening at the Carmel High School pool.

According to Coach Donn Squire, the new group will be a sort of "big-sister" auxiliary to the nationally recognized competitive synchronized swimming club.

PLYMOUTH AND CHRYSLER, handsome new 1967 models are on display at Cypress Motors, Monterey. This is the new Plymouth "Fury," a big beautiful car in the low price field. It's available in V-8 or 225 cu. in. 6-cylinder engines.

★ ★ ★ Cross country exhibition race

A three-way cross-country exhibition race will be staged at Carmel High during the half-time of the varsity game with Hollister on the home field Saturday, Oct. 22.

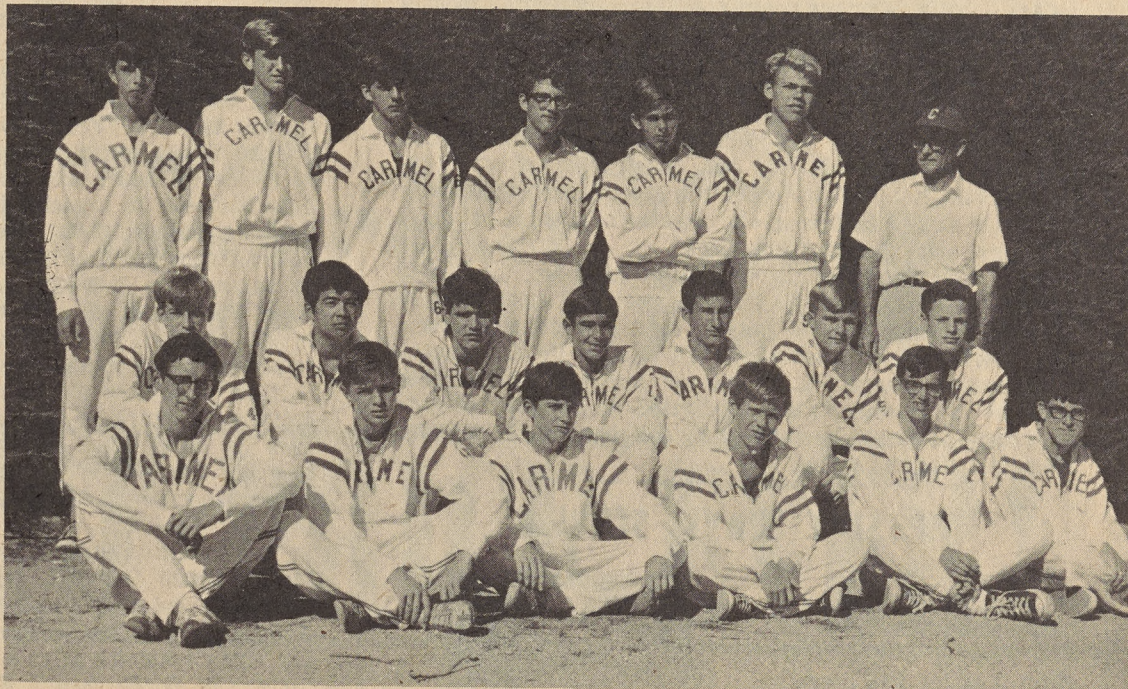

Competing, besides Padre runners, will be Pacific Grove and Hollister.

"This is the first time for an exhibition cross-country meet at a football game," commented Lloyd Baskerville, Carmel cross country coach, "and it's a fine opportunity to acquaint many people with the excitement and challenges of cross-country races."

Next Mission Trail League meet is this Thursday at 4 with King City on the home track.

CV Volunteers crush Carmel

All of the baseball action isn't in Los Angeles... it just seems that way! As a portion of the new physical fitness program instigated by Peninsula Fire Departments, the Carmel Valley Volunteers have twice challenged and twice beaten the Carmel Department. Score of the first game was 28-24 and the Valley firemen won the second game 35-28. Don Weber, athletic director of the Valley department, announces that they will meet Pacific Grove there on Oct. 28.

Spots cars roll this weekend for Grand Prix

The most spectacular sports-racing event in Northern California history will be the seventh annual Monterey Grand Prix, this Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

This race, the fourth of six in the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series, will field the fastest sports-racing cars ever run at Laguna Seca. The speed potential of these cars is around the 200 mph mark.

Of greater interest is the list of experienced drivers who will be piloting the fast Group 7 cars—Jim Hall, Bruce McLaren, Parnelli Jones, Dan Gurney, John Surtees and Phil Hill, just to name a few!

Power for these cars is supplied mainly by Ford and Chevrolet V8 engines, reworked for maximum power. These engines as are the cars, are completely worked over for each race.

The viewing public will not only see fast cars but they will be exposed to some new design concepts such as the new airfoil "spoilers" on Jim Hall's new model Chaparrals. Each Chaparral has a spoiler sticking about four feet in the air at the rear of the car. Its purpose is to act as an air brake and also to keep the car on the ground at high speeds.

Carmel Valley's Ed Leslie, will be driving a new Webster Oldsmobile for the first time in this weekend's Laguna Seca Grand Prix. Ed will be qualifying on Friday. Another Valleyite, Don Wester, will be driving the same Porsche Carrera Six which brought him into the winner's circle at Kent, Washington this past weekend.

Charlie Parsons of Carmel, this year's USRRC champion, won the Kent race and will be driving his winning McLaren Chevy in the Grand Prix.

In the amateur races, Doug Williams of Rancho Del Monte has entered his Corvette Stingray in the ABCD production race.

The Monterey Grand Prix is sponsored by Sports Car

Racing Association of the Monterey Peninsula (SCRAMP) in cooperation with the San Francisco Examiner. Racing starts Friday with qualifying and ends with the feature event starting at 1:30 p.m., Sunday, Oct. 16.

PENINSULA PROGRESS REVIEW

Peninsula Progress Review is a series of informative articles about progressive firms and individuals well serving the interests of our community and contributing to the phenomenal growth of the Monterey Peninsula. No person writes of his own business. Every article is prepared by Newspaper Feature Service, which is solely responsible for the content and placement of this column.

CONTRACTOR CARL S. JOHNSON

Playing an active and progressive role in the development of the Monterey Peninsula is Contractor Carl S. Johnson who has established a reputation for dependability and efficiency as a top flight builder. In all types of new construction, and particularly in the remodeling-alteration field, this Carmel contractor has demonstrated that he would take a back seat to no building firm.

Carl S. Johnson

Carl Johnson seems to possess an innate ability to schedule material and manpower at each stage of construction to assure that the project will move through from the drawing board to completion expeditiously and efficiently. This is of particular significance when a remodeling program of a bathroom or a kitchen is underway, and is a matter of prime consideration to anyone who has construction of any type in progress. It is this conscientious supervision coupled with a group of skilled craftsmen who combine to give the hallmark of quality to any Carl S. Johnson job.

From his offices on Carmel Valley Road Mr. Johnson is constantly on the move, adding his personal supervision to each of the contracts he has in progress and maintaining a close personal relationship with his clients. He has reached a successful plateau as a business man and is also looked upon as a private citizen dedicated to projects of civic betterment. He may be reached by telephone at 624-3581 for free estimates and advice.

PEASLEY TRAVEL SERVICE

Disproving the theory that the distaff role in the business world is limited to that of a follower of man, Margaret Peasley has literally led the way for both men and women to almost every spot on the face of the earth. As one of the oldest members of American Society of Travel Agents, she was honored during this past year by being named a Certified Travel Counsellor by that organization. This is a designation conferred only on those travel advisors who have a proven capability and first hand knowledge in anticipating every problem in this challenging profession.

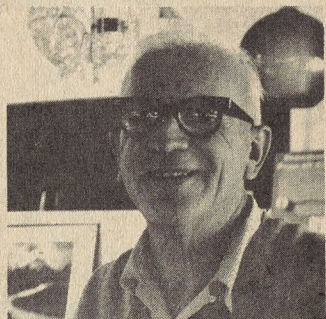

Margaret Peasley

Established since 1949, the Peasley Travel Service is today capably serving Monterey Peninsula residents from their attractive offices at Dolores and 7th or by telephone at 624-3855. All manner of travel arrangements by rail, ocean or air are expeditiously handled by Miss Peasley and staff to consummate satisfaction of her clients. Pleasure and business travel, either within the United States or world wide, are intelligently planned right down to the minutest detail. Group tours and special trips also receive the same painstaking attention to detail to assure a carefree trip.

Margaret Peasley has proven herself as a worthy member in a highly competitive profession, and also as a Carmelite with a high degree of community pride. She exudes confidence and a spirit of progress, thus earning her niche as a public leader.

VILLAGE ELECTRIC SHOP

Among those firms which have earned the approval of the public, as well as the laudation of their many customers, is Village Electric Shop at Mission and 4th in Carmel. Since the firm's advent into business, they have enjoyed a reputation for integrity, reliability and customer satisfaction in all transactions.

Barney Laiolo

Village Electric is a highly qualified firm for any type of electrical installation and additionally stand ready for any type of repairing or remodeling of electrical systems in the home or place of business. Complete installation of electric heating systems is of particular importance at this time of year and the firm has full knowledge and resources to engineer and install complete units.

The firm is also the authorized dealer for the complete line of RCA Whirlpool automatic washers and dryers, as well as refrigerators and freezers and dishwashing machines and radios. Many local residents who have purchased from Village Electric have been high in praise of the savings effected as well as the general courtesy and helpfulness they received in selecting the proper appliance.

Owner Barney Laiolo has bent every effort to build an enduring and friendly reputation for his Village Electric and he has been singularly successful in this respect. He has won friendship and high regard for his business and for himself.

Big evening of fun and games planned for 3rd annual Tularcitos Halloween Carnival

Valley families will once again join together to celebrate the arrival of "The Great Pumpkin" at the third annual Halloween Carnival sponsored by the Tularcitos Parents Club. The one fund raising benefit of the year will take place Saturday, Oct. 29, from 5 to 8 p.m. Booths, many of them new this year, will be set up on the playground and in the multi-purpose room to give families an evening of fun and games. Mrs. John Davis, in charge of the kitchen, urges Mom to take the evening off and eat the carnival menu to be served in the cafeteria.

Mrs. Zane Speiser and Mrs. Mel Blevens are "co-witches" of the event. They have enlisted the aid of Mrs. George Palmer and Mrs. Fred Boehme to take charge of ticket sales, Mrs. Terry Jones and Mrs. John Simpson to organize the costume parade, Bob Jones, John Simpson and Fred Boehme to arrange the lighting, Mrs. Lisa Buchenroth to plan the music, and Mrs. Eugene Baker to provide plenty of litter boxes.

Home room mothers are busy enlisting workers to plan and man the booth which has been assigned to them. Two fish ponds have been planned for this year and will be set up in the multi-purpose room. Mrs. William Edwards, Mrs. Ed Arana and Mrs. Frank De Amaral Jr. are in charge of the Witch's Hut for Miss Witter's a.m. kindergarten. The other one is a Bat Cave sponsored by Mrs. Sandberg's first grade, whose room mothers are Mrs. Lloyd Swanson and Mrs. Mark Hattan.

Mrs. Dale Buche and Mrs. Robert Cross are in charge of the Hayride for Miss Witter's p.m. kindergarten. Balloons will be sold by Mrs. Harris's first grade under the direction of Mrs. Gerald Petkus and Mrs. H.R. Waymire. Joan Hopkins has charge of the Teddy Bear Toss for Mrs. Damgaard's first grade, while Mrs. Richard Frazer and Mrs. Luther Washington are planning a Toy Soldier Shoot for Mrs. Wilson's a.m. kindergarten. Miss Gildesgaard's third grade will sell popcorn with Mrs. Fred Boehme and Mrs. Roger Sherman in charge. Carnival caramel apples were the choice of Mrs. Cleve Harris and Jana Janic for Mrs. MacGowan's second grade. Mrs. Belleman's and Mrs. Burdick's second grades will combine to decorate a Junior Spook Room under the direction of Ann Werner, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Harry Robertson, and Kathryn Wolfe.

A separate room has been assigned the Cake Walk this year, to divert the traffic problems encountered before. Mrs. John Woods and Mrs. Arthur Massaglia are co-chairmen of this for Miss Duggan's fourth grade. Mrs. Robert Ray and Mrs. Theo Mirani are in charge of a Ghost Race for Mr. Hoover's fourth grade. Mrs. Jack Campbell and Mrs. Mary Underwood are assigning workers to the Potato Car Race for Mrs. Holmes' third grade. Ring the Soldier's Nose is a new booth to be constructed by Mrs. Theodore Hansen and Mrs. P.L. Elliot for Mr. Pomeroy's 3rd and 4th grades.

Mrs. Phil Cordrey and Mrs. George Shepherd are introducing a Side Show this year using the talents of teens and preteens for entertainment. Mrs. John Senger will discuss the past, present and foretell your future in her role of Fortune Teller. The fourth grade Camp Fire Girls, led by Mrs. Glen Low, will provide the Jack O' Lanterns for the evening. In charge of the Clean-up committee is Mrs. John Sigourney.

Still more booths to visit will be an Ape Dart Game sponsored by Mrs. William Walker and Mrs. Don Draper, room mothers for Mr. Lothe's sixth grade, a Clown Bean Bag Throw by Mrs. P.L. Ellis and Mrs. Donald Meharry for Mrs. Merwine's 5th grade; Apples on a String by Mrs. Harold Thystrup for Mr. Fishburn's 5th grade, Pins in the Pumpkin by Mrs. Bettie O'Neal and Mrs. Eugene Baker for Mr. Askew's 6th grade, and the ever popular Soak the Joker for Mr. McCormack's 5th and 6th grade under the supervision of Mrs. Lester Golden and Mrs. Sal Ocampo.

Donors urged to visit Bloodmobile

FIVE GALLON GIVER of blood to the Red Cross blood bank is Lou Allaire, who hopes to give again for the 41st time at the Oct. 27 appearance of the Bloodmobile at the CV Firehouse from 3 to 6:30 p.m. Mrs. Tom McKiernon, Valley Red Cross chairman, smiles her approval as she confirms the 20 pints noted on Lou's donor card.

Property owner groups join in Knolls cluster plan fight

Local organizations are joining the fight to oppose the proposed 10-townhouse development on 1.33 acres at Carmel Knolls Dr. and Carmel Valley Rd.

Against the proposal to date are the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association directors, Rancho Rio Vista Property Owners and Carmel Knolls Associations, Carmel Planning Commission and Lower Valley Advisory Committee.

CVPOA directors voted to ask the PlanCom, which has endorsed the proposal in principle and referred it to its Subdivision committee for study, to retain the present half-acre minimum on the west side of Carmel Knolls Dr. and one-acre minimum on the east side.

CVPOA directors heard that PlanCom had previously denied applications for a service station and a Foster Freeze unit and had declared that "any rezoning out of conformity with the half-acre minimum would be inappropriate."

Applicant Will Hudson has argued that, because one third acre of the proposed site is already zoned commercial, that the requested 10-unit density is economically essential.

CVPOA, Swim agree on adoption of Spangle plan

Pres. Dudley Swim of the Monterey County Council for Conservation and Planning, the organization of large property owners, and the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association directors see eye-to-eye on the proposed slope density formula for Carmel Valley, the Spangle formula.

Parallel aims of the two groups were emphasized at the CVPOA directors' meeting last week at which Swim, who is also a former CVPOA president, sat in.

Swim said that he strongly favors the Spangle report and personally thinks "the formula makes a lot of sense, such as graduating up to five acres for a minimum building site in steepest terrain." He added that this should be coupled with easing road standards to permit subdividers to install non-urban type roads in steep areas.

OPPOSES CLUSTERING

Swim called "clustering" a means of getting around the one-acre minimum site-requirement of the CV Master Plan. "It permits the developer to buy vertical land and then commit mayhem at the summit," he said. "You then have a tenement at the core—hub-to-hub construction as opposed to rural residential.

"Your subdivider would be better off and better able to sell his development if the minimum building site were enforced to protect him against his own greed."

Clayton Neill Jr. proposed a requirement for tree planting for future developments and that no exceptions be made to the one-acre minimum, suggestions which Swim supported.

6 RECOMMENDATIONS

CVPOA board voted to make the following recommendations to the county board of supervisors:

1. Adoption of the Spangle report with exception of some small-lot suggestions.
2. Retention of one-acre minimum in conformance with CV Master Plan, with no cluster developments.
3. Application of the slope density formula to all parcels; rejection of the proposal for an "average" for certain areas.
4. Adoption of the contour or "B" method of slope measurement as previously endorsed by CVPOA.

DUDLEY SWIM

5. Inclusion of structural design control, as recommended by the Spangle report.

6. Development by the county planning commission of measures to encourage good design, according to chapter 5 of the Spangle report.

Ward Gillette wins area kicking & passing contest

About 40 athletes performed in a football kicking and passing competition at Carmel Middle School Friday afternoon, and one local lad went on the next evening to win the area competition at MPC, while another

Middle School ties Portola, 0-0

Carmel Middle School 8A flag footballers Saturday battled a hard-fought contest to a 0-0 tie against Portola.

Victory would have been theirs if one touchdown hadn't been called back.

The 7A squad also fought a tough game, losing 8-2 to Portola.

The 8B and 7B teams were smothered by powerful opposition.

Coach Ralph Blumenthal had special praise for Gregg Corver, who intercepted two passes for the 8A's. Tailback Jim De Amaral ran and passed for many long gains, and Jim Conlan and Craig Dickenson played outstanding games as well.

For the 7A team, Terry Seeders performed nicely, while Kim Weston turned in an outstanding defensive performance and Bobby Conlan ran for many yards.

Ward Gillette, who won in the 13-year-old class Friday, then came through with first the next day at MPC. He will next vie in Northern California finals at San Francisco. Winner there goes to Washington, D.C.

Winning the 12-year-old competition was Terry Seeders, also from the Middle School, who placed 3rd in the area competition at MPC.

The boys participated in three different events: punting, place kicking and passing. Judging was both on distance and accuracy.

Jeff Vandervort of Mission Catholic school won the competition for 11-year-olds.

Another Middle School student, Chris Hrusha, won the 10-year-old contest, and Mark Tappan of River School won for 8-year-olds.

Scoring was on the basis of total feet place-kicked, punted and passed with a penalty subtracted for inaccuracy.

Gillette's top score was 320 feet, Hrusha scored 195, Vandervort 150, and Tappan 115 feet.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson of Sage Rd. welcomed a granddaughter born Sept. 6 who has been named Susan Kathleen. Susan, who has a three-year-old brother, Russell, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Muller of Englewood, N.J. Barbara Simpson is in the East now helping her sister, Mary, and getting acquainted with the new arrival.

A lot of good wishes from the many friends made while they were in the Valley accompanied Dr. and Mrs. Arlo Pitcher, who with children, Sue, Steven, and Pat, moved from their home on Rancho Rd. to St. James, Minn., where Dr. Pitcher has accepted a practice.

Welcome home for former Valley residents, Elaine and Jack Taylor, who with children Jenny and Jess, have returned to stay after spending two years in Falls Church, Va. Dr. Taylor has resumed his position in the research department at the Presidio office of HumRRO after working during their two years in the East in the Human Resources Research Central office in Washington, D.C. The Taylors are renting the Harold Medkeff home on Toyon Way.

Miss Patricia Barden of San Bruno was entertained last weekend as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Feldman of Aliso Rd.

Former Valley resident, Ben King, recently signed a three-year contract for his continuation as golf pro at the Salinas Golf and Country Club. Making the announcement were Norm Fahey, club manager, and Jim Barnes, president of the Country Club.

Graduating in Columbus Day exercises at the Naval Postgraduate School was Lt. Cmdr. Donald Willson of Story Rd. The happy occasion for the Valley family was the culmination of two years of study at the Monterey school in the field of electronic communications curriculum, which completed his B.S. degree in electronic engineering. His orders now are to report to the VA-122 in Lemoore, but Mary and the children will remain in the Valley until his future plans are more definite.

Mrs. Shirley Denham and daughter of Robinson Canyon left last week to fly to her native England for a visit with friends and family. When Shirley leaves Portsmouth, she hopes to be accompanied by her mother for an extended visit in the States.

Father James Voytko officiated recently at the Baptism ceremony of Stacie Chris Wester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Wester of Country Club Way. Stacie wore a lovely imported christening gown which her parents plan to tuck away

Olow family returns from duty in Germany

LT. COL. JOHN L. OLOW III, wife and four children, have returned to live in Carmel after residing in Germany for two years where Col. Olow commanded the crack 2nd Battalion, 32nd Armor of the 3rd Armored Division (Spearhead). Mrs. Olow, the former Pauline Seebree, is the daughter of Mrs. E.B. Seebree and the late Maj. Gen. E.B. Seebree of Carmel Meadows. The Olows lived in the Carmel area from 1960 to 1964 and the children, John IV, Seebree Ann, Christopher, and Alexander were enrolled in the Carmel Mission Junipero Serra School. The children once again are attending the Mission School with John IV a sophomore at Carmel High School. Col. Olow has been assigned as the commanding officer, Special Troops Command, Fort Ord and during the period of assignment will reside with his family at 82 Fisher Pl., Mission Fields.

Craftsmen to be honored at Anniversary

The Carmel Crafts Guild is sending out entry blanks this week to local craftsmen, inviting them to enter their work for exhibition Oct. 21 to Oct. 31 as part of Carmel's Golden Anniversary Celebration.

Frank M. Bell, Guild exhibits' chairman, advises artists to limit entries to three pieces and bring them to Room 7 of Sunset Center where the exhibit will be shown, Oct. 14 or 15 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Since craftsmen past and present are being honored, artists who have left the area may bring in work or borrow examples of their work from local residents who may now own them, to be shown here for the anniversary, Mr. Bell suggested.

Other plans for the Golden Anniversary are firming up daily, according to Gunnar Norberg, chairman of the celebration.

MAYOR'S PROGRAM

"The Mayors Look at Carmel" will open the 10-day series of events with ex-mayors of the city contributing reminiscences and with Keith Evans, himself a former mayor, as moderator.

Carmel's present Mayor Steve Grant will be there and eight more former mayors, still living in the area, have been invited.

They are Herbert Blanks and Evan Whittlesey, now serving on the City Council; Frank Putnam, Horace Lyon, P.A. McCreery, Fred Godwin, Everett Smith and Herbert Herron, twice mayor and senior ex-mayor who will also be guest of honor on his 82nd birthday at a dinner dance for past mayors and councilmen.

Musical concerts, lectures, panel discussions and exhibits in the anniversary series will be free to the public, Mr. Norberg points out.

A flat ticket charge of $1.50 will be made for "Pipe Dream," the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical which is in rehearsal under the direction of Cole Weston and scheduled to open Saturday, Oct. 29.

Councilman William Sefton is in charge of tickets, which may be purchased at the Coachman's Inn, the Carmel Box Office and local businesses throughout the city.

Woman's Club plant exchange

An exchange of perennial plants will feature the first meeting of the House and Garden Section of the Carmel Woman's Club on Monday, Oct. 17, at 2 p.m.

The plants, rooted and labelled with name and color, will be on display in the patio of the Club, under the direction of the Section Chairman Mrs. D. MacMillan Kerr.

Assisting as hostesses will be Mrs. Floyd Pearson, Mrs. Allen Davis, Mrs. Eva McKay and Mrs. Edna C. Brooks.

Tea will be served with the following presiding at the tea tables: Mmes. H. G. Thompson, Russell Townsend, George Thorngate and Rolf J. Ullestadt.

Diaz family celebrates third anniversary of The Plaza Linda

It takes courage to jump into a new business with little or no experience, and a bit of fool-hardy bravery was part of the recipe for success of the Diaz family's Plaza Linda Restaurant in Carmel Valley Village.

Dean Diaz, Sr. had operated a shoe repair shop on Main St. in Salinas for seven years and two smaller shoe repair establishments before that, in North Salinas and in the Alisal district.

When Dean Jr. got out of the Navy some three years ago, the moment seemed right for a family venture. His mother and sister had run a small restaurant in Salinas during the war, and she suggested a better-type Mexican-specialty restaurant.

This month their Plaza Linda Restaurant in the Cummings Building celebrates its third birthday. Last December it expanded into the "Red Room" at the front of the building, an indication that the Diaz family is doing nicely.

The family includes Mr. and Mrs. Diaz, Sr.—Dean and Jennie; Dean Jr. and his wife Josie; another son, John, whose prowess as a lineman on Hartnell College's football team is well-known, and, in the beginning, daughter Sandra, who now lives in San Jose with her husband.

Cousin Leonard Ortiz was in on the act at first, too, helping with the cooking. And there was lots of helpful advice from Grandmother Valdina Diaz y Alejo, who had run a tortilla factory and restaurant in Salinas.

The Diaz organization makes all its Mexican food, except the torillas. Corn torillas are preferred, although flour tortillas are available for the few who want them.

Demand is about evenly divided between enchiladas, cheese and meat varieties, and tacos, which are rolled up, crisp torillas stuffed with meat and chopped lettuce. Rellenos or stuffed chili peppers are also popular. Original Diaz sauce of their own making is appreciated by the customers.

They sell about as much Mexican beer as American, although the imported Mexican brew costs a bit more.

Dean Sr. was born in Hollywood and Jennie's home-town was Albuquerque, N.M. Her mother came from Old Mexico, from Chihuahua, and her father from Texas.

Dean Sr.'s parents were from Morelia in southwestern Mexico. He still has a venerable uncle of 98 who is an active tax collector in Morelia.

Winding up the family-act in Plaza Linda Restaurant are original paintings by Louie Guyot of Salinas, daughter Sandra's father-in-law.

Is the united Diaz family

FAMILY ACT at Plaza Linda Restaurant. Here is the happy Diaz family which is celebrating the third anniversary of their Mexican-food restaurant in Carmel Valley Village this month. In the center are the senior Diaz's, Dean and Jennie. At left is son John, who made a name for himself on the Hartnell College football team.

working together, as happy and serene as appearances suggest? "Well, we have a few family squabbles once in awhile, like anybody," commented Dean Jr. "But we get along very well and work comfortably with each other. We're a lucky family, really. And of course, we feel we're lucky to have found a spot like Carmel Valley where a Mexican restaurant is wanted."

Appeal being made on Rancho Fiesta road setback decision

Appeal to the board of supervisors is being made for reduction in setback requirements for the proposed 220-unit Rancho Fiesta retirement community in Carmel Valley.

The request for setbacks, ranging from seven to 25 feet along Carmel Valley Rd., was denied last week by County Zoning Administrator Robert Slimmon.

Knorr-Elliott Associates, San Francisco architects, urged reduction in the setbacks, which are set at 30 feet by zoning ordinance, to preserve more open space within the 30-acre development.

The variance application had been opposed by the Upper Valley Advisory Committee, arguing that "smaller setbacks would constitute further encroachments by a high density development in a rural area."

New arrivals

New arrivals at Community Hospital:

Monica Diane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baltz, Carmel, born Sept. 15.

Diane Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Drewien, Rt. 2, Carmel Valley, also born Sept. 15.

Michael Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thystrup, 41 Hitchcock Canyon, Carmel Valley, born Sept. 17.

Y-Indian guides organize tribe

Organization meeting for YMCA-Indian Guide tribe is scheduled at Carmel River School Oct. 13 at 7:30 p.m. The meeting is open to any father of a first, second or third grade boy interested in hearing about the Y-Indian Guides.

Rudd Crawford, YMCA Program committee chairman, said that Y-Indian Guides are a national father-son home-centered program in which fathers and sons participate together. Further information is available by calling 373-4166.

Walter Lewis Masten, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Masten of Rt. 2, Carmel, born Sept. 24.

Elise Layton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Layton of Carmel, born Sept. 28.

Mr. and Mrs. James M. Brown, 134 Robles del Rio Rd., welcomed their second daughter, Karie Lynn, Oct. 2, at Community Hospital. Karie's sister, Wendy, will celebrate her 5th birthday Oct. 9.

At Von Ruhs Studio Gallery

Three Valley artists exhibit at joint show

Three Carmel Valley artists will combine their talents in a joint exhibit opening next Tuesday, Oct. 18, at the Von Ruhs Studio Gallery in the Talbott Building in Carmel Valley Village.

On exhibition will be constructions by Eve Tartar Brown, "intuitions" (watercolors and drawings featuring nature) by Winifred Carmer Marburg and paintings by Marlinde Von Ruhs.

On the opening day of the exhibit, Tuesday from 3 to 8, Sangria will be served. The showing at the gallery, which is otherwise open daily 11 to 5, is scheduled to continue through Nov. 15.

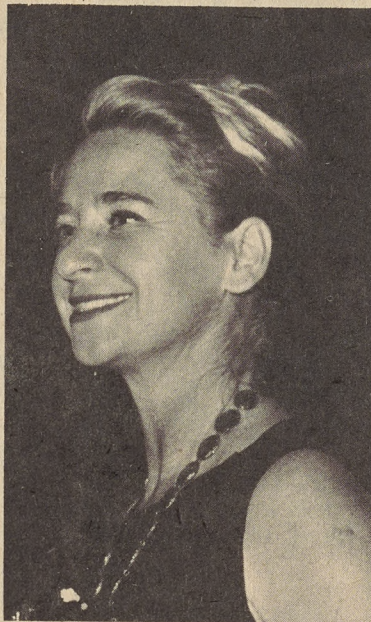

A native of Salzburg, Austria, Marlinde Von Ruhs took up residence in Carmel Valley in 1956, usually spending her summers traveling. She participated summers in the workshop with Oskar Kokoschka in Salzburg.

MANY SHOWS

She has had one-man shows in Vienna, Salzburg, New York, Carmel, La Jolla, Santa Clara University, San Francisco, Sacramento, Virginia City, University of Nevada, Cathedral University, Charleston, S.C. She studied at the Academy of Arts in Dusseldorf under Junghanns and Schmitz-Wiedenbrueck and at the Vienna Academy of Fine Arts with Sergius Pausér and Hermann Boeckl.

In 1948 she came to this country to study at the University of California, Berkeley, and in 1952 became a U.S. citizen. The following year she studied at the New York Arts Students League under Vyclatil and Schabbeharr.

In his book, "The Art of Marlinde," Merle Armitage said: "The facility of Marlinde would be as a motor gone wild, were it not in the full control of a sensitivity, a sense of proportion and a taste which holds in check and guides a robust natural ability to paint significantly."

She is well known for her dramatic use of color and contrast of varied subjects.

MARBURG'S NATURE

Winifred Carmer Marburg, who lives at The Hacienda, started painting and drawing in Vienna, Austria in 1926. She explained that she wanted to better understand the new art movement which was beginning to flower then.

Her greatest inspiration has come from plants and flowers, which she depicts with sensitivity.

She has had shows in the East, including New York, Princeton, Maine, Virginia, Mt. Claire, N.J. and in the West, recently in Pacific Grove.

Eve Tartar Brown's constructions feature geometric forms, which she often expands to include natural forms, extracting their basic essence for aesthetic and symbolic use.

She emphasized the importance of changing light, which gives her constructions new dimensions and constant changes.

She was self-taught until 1932 when Norman Raeben became her instructor.

FASHION DESIGNER

She studied also with Robert Motherwell, Mondrian of New York, Seuphor from Paris and Dorazio from Rome.

She was the first American in 1947 to have a fashion show in Paris and is author of a textbook, which related fashion to aesthetics, color relationships and sculptured forms.

While a successful designer in New York, she painted in private and did sculpture.

Her work is shown in San Francisco, Los Angeles and Carmel and has been purchased by private collectors in Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, Maine, Syria, New York and California.

Arts & Crafts Festival accepting entries for October 29-30 show

Jim Fosnot of Carmel Valley is one of the early entries in the first annual Arts & Crafts Festival scheduled at the Monterey County Fairgrounds Oct.

29 and 30.

Fosnot, who lives at Lazy Oaks, is entering a metal sculptured fire-place.

More than $4,000 in cash and purchase awards are offered for oil and mixed media paintings, water colors, prints, drawings and collages, sculpture and crafts, both in all media.

Juried exhibits will include paintings, drawings, prints, collages, sculpture and crafts.

Over 50 artists will be performing, doing painting and sculpture, ceramics, jewelry, weaving, woodworking at the Festival.

A champagne preview and reception for exhibiting artists will be held Friday Oct. 28 at 8 p.m. Tickets are available at the Salinas Chamber of Commerce or by writing to Fine Arts & Crafts Festival, P.O. Box 1170, Salinas.

The festival will be climaxed by an art auction Sunday at 2 p.m.

MPC film series

"Requiem for a Heavyweight," second film in Monterey Peninsula College's fall film series, "An Approach to Modern Tragedy," will be screened once—at 7:30 p.m.—Friday, Oct. 14, in the MPC Music Hall.

Season tickets for the series are no longer available. Individual seats, at 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for MPC students holding student body cards, are available only by mail or at the music hall door on the evening of the performance.

Explorarama camera visits Bavaria

The Explorers Club of San Francisco has announced the showing of the prize winning travel film from the European Travel Festivals, "Bavaria," for 8:15 p.m., Friday, Oct. 14, in Carmel's Sunset Auditorium. The hour and a half color film will be narrated in person by its photographer, Dick Reddy.

The film has recorded stereophonic musical backgrounds which were recorded on the spot in Germany. Highlights include the colorful and unusual Octoberfest, Carnival time in Munich, Hellabrunn's Zoo, Bavarian parades, a look inside Ludwig's Castle, the interesting Festival of the Cows, unusual Folk Dancing Festivals, and Obersalzberg, Hitler's mountain retreat.

Dick Reddy, the film's producer, is a native of Texas and a graduate of the School of Journalism, North Texas State University. He holds a master's degree and has been both an administrator and a teacher. His unusual interest in travel and photography brought him to study in the School of Cinematography, of the University of Southern California.

According to George Lourbis, director of the Explorers Club, Reddy's film "Bavaria" is one of the most outstanding his organization has ever presented in the Carmel area.

Tickets at $1.75 are now available at Central Box Office in Carmel and Abinante's Music Store in Monterey.

Community Theatre slates lectures in drama production

The first of this season's Community Theatre workshops will begin Wednesday, Oct. 19, with a class in speech conducted by Rozelle Weinfield.

Miss Weinfield, a graduate of Fresno State College, majored in speech and communications and minored in drama. She has appeared locally at the Circle, Studio, California First and Mark Thomas Dinner Theatres. The workshop will be held in Room 4 at the Sunset Center in Carmel at 8 o'clock and will continue each Wednesday night for four weeks.

Other sessions to begin within the next two weeks are workshops in stagecraft as related to stage movements given by Barbara West, lighting by Bill Lewis, acting by Norman McPhee and scenic design by Carol McPhee. Costuming and makeup classes will begin later in the season.

These workshops are designed to appeal not only to actors and interested stage people but to the playgoer who would like to know more of what he sees and understand these various phases of production better.

Carmel Art Assn. announces two one-man shows

Carmel Art Association is featuring two one-man shows during October. A memorial show of the late Thomas McGlynn and an exhibition of the latest works of Gene Elmore of Carmel.

Thomas McGlynn received his initial training at the old Mark Hopkins Art Institute (now the California School of Fine Arts) in San Francisco. A Pebble Beach resident for the past 25 years, he had, prior to his retirement, been a distinguished educator in San Francisco and the University of California.

His work has been shown in Chicago, Portland, Los Angeles and other art centers of the country and his entries have been awarded numerous special honors. He was a member of Carmel Art Association, Santa Cruz Art Association, American Artists Professional League, and the Society of Western Artists.

Born in Findlay, Ohio, Gene Elmore earned his B.A. at Bowling Green University, Ohio. He also studied art at Academy of Advertising Art, San Francisco, and Carmel Institute of Art. A member of Carmel Art Association, he has exhibited at the Fort Worth Museum, Tex., Ligoa Duncan Galleries, New York City, and Artists Cooperative, San Francisco.

Awards he has earned include honorable mention at the California State Fair, first prize at the Monterey Jazz Festival; and purchase prize, Las Vegas, Nevada Art League.

When you think deeply about it from a religious standpoint, you begin to wonder — can anyone really measure man's potential, or put any limits on it? Can you measure God's love for His creation? No. But we can learn to let it mold and fill our lives. Hear this one-hour public lecture, "What Is Your Potential?" by JANE O. ROBBINS, C.S., a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Valleyite Ralph Botten named manager of new Valley Cinema

When Cmdr. Ralph Botten begins his latest assignment as manager of the new Valley Cinema, he will be working but a hop, skip and a jump away from his home, nearby on Berwick Dr.

Having enjoyed life in the Valley for the past five years, Margaret and Ralph Botten and daughters, Carol and Ruth Ann, are happy to be staying here, instead of fighting a rat race of rush hour traffic in one of the larger cities near aircraft industries.

Cmdr. Botten, an instructor in naval warfare at the Postgraduate School since 1961, retired from active duty this summer after completing 25 years of service in the Navy.

His new job is completely different from anything he has done before and he told The Outlook he is enjoying his daily contact with people. Previously his contacts had been more with aircraft, having been a naval aviator since 1942. He has logged over 4,000 hours in the air and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross after action as a member of the strike group which sank the Japanese battleship Yamato during World War II.

In Botten's opening assignment at the Valley Cinema he will again be involved with battle but in quite a different category. The film scheduled as the first attraction is "Khartoum," which tells the story of the Sudan Wars of the 1880's. Starring in this widescreen production of desert battle are Lawrence Olivier and Charlton Heston.

Botten is extremely busy right now getting ready for both the gala benefit show which will open the theatre on Wednesday, Oct. 19, and the official public opening the next night. The benefit, sponsored by the Carmel Valley Community Center will be a champagne preview of "Khartoum," with additional entertainment and gifts donated by other merchants in the new Valley Shopping Center.

Proceeds from the Wednesday night preview will go to the Community Center and pool, so the opening will truly be a Valley affair with a Valley man on hand to greet the guests.

Five Carmel Hi scholars win honors

Five Carmel High School students scored honors in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, Principal Warren Edwards announced last week.

Although the tests were taken last February, results, which are based on national scoring, have just been released.

Mary Faulkner of Carmel took top spot among Carmel High students, scoring over 146 points to be a semi-finalist. She is expected to be in the final competition, Counselor John Graham added.

Four Carmel Valley scholars came next, winning letters of commendation, which means they scored between 137 and 146 points on the test.

They are Steve Burnett, Lory Swan, Adrianna Ricupero and Scott Sinclair.

Benefit rummage sale

The "Dollars for Scholars" slogan is ringing out again to announce the annual rummage sale of the Monterey Peninsula Branch of the A.A.U.W. to be held next Saturday from 9 to 3 p.m. at the exhibition hall of the county fairgrounds.

The Rhyming Philosopher

Too many restrictions give people conniptions,
Now the air that we breathe has been tainted;
While the after effects if you smoke cigarettes
Makes the Devil much better acquainted.

There's the smog and the fog and the hair off the dog
Must unflinching give us bronchitis.
If you don't get the hives eating too many chives,
Then some other sad state will indict us.

Oh, I shudder to think of the evils of drink,
And they say they put dope in the mixers.
Live it up while you can since they'll soon put a ban
On Snake Oil and other elixers.

But this morning I heard the very last word,
And not so astonishingly funny:
In a decade or so we'll have no place to go
Since they'll soon be abolishing money!

in a trunk in hopes that it will be handed down through generations of their family. Family and friends returned to the Wester home after the services for cake and coffee.

One of the cakes had been exquisitely decorated by Donna Nolan with a large cross and the lettering "God Bless you Anastasia." Among those honoring the baby girl were her Godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene "Toddy" Sanchez, Mrs. J.C. Ramsey, maternal grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wester, paternal grandparents, Mrs. Mae Cunningham, Mrs. Ruby Newman, Mr. and Mrs. John Klump with Christi and Tricia, Mrs. Audrey Lopez, and the Sanchez children, Marsha, Cynthia, and Steven. Incidentally, Steven was a very proud six-year-old when recognized by Father Voytko as the ring bearer who had served at Pat and Don's wedding, and invited him to help officiate during the Baptism ceremony.

Co-chairmen Mrs. Milton Klikovac and Mrs. Frank Graham, of the Christmas bazaar to be sponsored by the ladies of the Community Chapel Guild, met recently with committee chairmen at the home of Mrs. Thomas McKiernon. Plans were discussed for work groups for the 1966 bazaar to be held at the Fellowship Hall, Community Chapel, Dec. 2 from 3 to 9 p.m. A hot dinner will be served for the entire family from 5 to 7 p.m. Those attending the meeting were Mmes. Elbert Wade, Richard Lee, Larry Busick, Donald Brill and P.E. Elliott.

A number of the many friends of Mrs. Marie Johansen drove from the Valley on a recent Sunday to the Estrada Adobe in Monterey to extend their warmest congratulations on her 83rd birthday. Born in Udby, Denmark in 1883, the Pacific Grove resident is the mother of a former Valleyite, Johnnie Johansen, who was one of the hosts at the birthday celebration. Other members of her family mingling with guests at the tea party included 11 children, 20 grandchildren, 53 great-grandchildren, and one great great grandchild.

Winners of the duplicate bridge tournament held by the Valley Bridge Club Sept. 20 at the Community Center were in first place, Mrs. Herbert Angier, Jr. and Mrs. Charles M. Marcolli. Mrs. Basil Frobisher and Maurice Stoney won second place, and third place was awarded to Mrs. M.L. Stoner and Graham Matthews. Meeting again on Sept. 27, winning honors were taken by Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Van Laanen in first place, Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Gravelle in second place and Mrs. Mary Drobeck and Mrs. Mary Angier in third place.

Taking a busman's holiday on her day off was Mrs. Louva Huntington, head of the children's department at the County Library in Salinas, who came to the Valley to view the Fiesta parade with marching members of the summer reading program. Clustered around 23 padres who signified the Missions which served as reading goals for the children, were a large representation of the 108 children who participated in the California Mission Trails reading program directed by Valley librarian, Miss Marjorie Ibsen.

"An old oak leaf cluster" to Capt. Francis F. Simmons who is celebrating his silver anniversary with the California Highway Patrol. The Patrol's area commander, who makes his Valley home on Brookdale Dr. and Pancho Way, was presented with a certificate for his 25 years of service by Inspector R.A. Kridler of Fresno.

Lloyd Todd, who headed the tremendously successful Lions Club White Cane Sale, solved the labor shortage by enlisting the aid of his house guests, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spaid of Santa Monica. Martha and Harold with Ora Todd and Mrs. W.F. Edwards maintained an assembly line of canes and tags to prepare the tokens to be distributed throughout the Valley.

William McKenna, Hebert, Friedenthal, August, sponsor Clyde Hitchcock (partly hidden) and Jones.

Volunteers called to quench two fires

The CV Volunteer Fire Dept. was called Sept. 30 at 10 p.m. to the Pat Peabody apartment in the Village Manor on Village Dr. where a can of popcorn grease had ignited. Damage was contained to the popcorn and cooker.

An electric motor which controls the louvred windows on the swimming pool at the Laurel Dr. home of Mrs. Sylvia Kech overheated and caused a fire Oct. 2 at 1:41 p.m. Damage was estimated at $100.

Tombola sale

This year three agencies will benefit from proceeds of the Columbus Day "Tombola" sale, Oct. 12, at the Monterey fairgrounds, sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services, Family Service Agency, Monterey County Symphony Assoc., and the Visiting Nurse Assoc. will be aided by "Tombola."

"Tombola" is from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Donation of $1.00 entitles the ticket holder to door prize drawings.

Tickets may be obtained at the fairgrounds on Oct. 12, or acquired in advance by writing MPVS, P.O. Box 2004, Carmel or by telephoning the General Chairman Mrs. C.L. Underwood, 659-4559, or Ticket Chairman Mrs. Carl Ristau, 375-5557.

Gardening lecture

Hal Carter, regional director for the State Division of Highways and an instructor in ornamental horticulture at Monterey Peninsula College, will speak at MPC Friday, Oct. 14 at 7:30 on "Ground Covers for the Monterey Peninsula."

The Pacific Grove man is the third speaker in the college's home gardener series.

Wild pig season opens

The six-month European wild pig season opened Saturday, Oct. 1, in Monterey county. It will remain open until April 2.

Monterey county is the only area in California with a closed season on wild pigs. Elsewhere in the state they may be taken at any time.

Garden Thoughts

by Salih Mehdy

Oleander Garden Shop

Pyracantha is named from the Greek words: "pyr"—fire, and "akanthos"—thorn. These large, evergreen shrubs make a spectacular show this time of year, and well into the Christmas season, if the birds leave them alone. For those who love birds, the berries are a good way to lure them into the garden. The plant's bushy habit makes possible an ideal hedge to screen out unattractive things. Also, they can be espaliered easily along a fence or wall. The "Santa Cruz" variety can be used for a ground cover. It is covered with a mass of white flowers in spring, which are followed by red berries.

The shrub type of pyracantha called Lalandei, is vigorous and has orange berries. It was noticed the birds do not go to the orange as much as to the red-berried types.

Lift and store dahlia tubers in peat moss when the leaves turn brown. Cut the top foliage to within 5-6" from the ground. Sink a shovel into the soil around the stem and about 1 foot away from it. Then lift the whole clump. Shake it gently to remove the soil. Store the clump in boxes containing any one of the following materials: peat moss, sand, vermiculite or sawdust. Place them in a cool place such as a cellar or garage. To prevent the tubers from shriveling, occasionally sprinkle a very little water over the storage medium.

In spring, the buds of the dahlia clump start to show swelling and growth. With a very sharp knife, divide the clump, being sure to choose the best tubers, always with a bud. A tuber without a bud will not grow, no matter how healthy the tuber may appear.

Growing hyacinths in a special jar is fun. For such planting, always use number one bulbs, since the plant and blooms depend to a large extent on the food stored in the bulb. Place the bulb in the top of a jar containing water. The water should barely touch the bottom of the bulb. Place the jar in a cool, dark place. Roots will develop and eventually fill the jar. When leaves start to show, gradually move it to a lighter and lighter place, until it is finally near a sunny window. The bloom will appear in about 2 1/2 months. You may plant several jars with a week's interval between, so you will have bloom for a longer period of time. These planted jars make a nice Christmas present.

The herb Pineapple Sage (salvia rutilans) is a hybrid of salvia splendens, our garden salvia used for bedding. It is a good-sized perennial, with the most brilliant of red flowers, carried in spikes. The leaves have a definite pineapple fragrance, and it is a nice addition to the herb garden. It has the advantage of blooming late—September and October, and does well in full sun.

Who says we have inflation? All you have to pay is 10 cents for the best tulip bulb. But look what a fellow farmer in Holland in 1636 had to pay for one bulb: 4 loads of rye, 2 loads of wheat, 4 oxen, 8 hogs, 12 sheep, 125 gal. of wine, 144 gal. of beer, and a silver drinking cup! One special bulb sold for 5,500 florins. These things happened when the love of tulips developed into a craze, and it was called tulipomania.

MPC offers management forum to Peninsula small business owners

Monterey Peninsula College's second small business management forum, to be offered in cooperation with the U.S. Small Business Administration, will run Oct. 6 through Nov. 17.

All meetings will be held on consecutive Thursday evenings, 7:30 to 9:30, in the MPC library lecture hall. A registration fee of $20 includes all materials and a graduation dinner.

Registration, limited to 40 owners and employees of local businesses, will be filled on a first come, first served basis.

"Creative Selling," with Herbert Baum, general agent, Franklin Life Insurance Co., Modesto, as speaker—Oct. 6; "How to Make Your Business Grow—Developing Your Marketing Strategy," with Steven C. Brandt, vice president of Loenbrandt, Inc., Palo Alto—Oct. 13; "Are Your Customers Getting the Word?" a workshop in effective advertising, with Ralph Kummer, marketing consultant, San Mateo—Oct. 20; "Tax and Legal," with Wallace Getz, CPA—Nov. 3.

Jack Morris home damaged by fire

A pre-dawn fire at the home of Jack Morris, Esquiline and South Bank Rds., brought out 21 men and five pieces of equipment Tuesday morning. Reported at 6:20 a.m. by a neighbor, Walter Patton, the fire appeared to be caused by a faulty or overheated radio. Major damage was to the kitchen.

Although no flame was visible the cottage was filled with smoke and considerable heat was generated, causing an estimated $4,000 worth of damage to the structure and $1,000 to furnishings, according to the fire department.

It was reported that Mrs. Morris had been absent at the time, taking her husband to work, and the smoke was noticed by the neighbor.

This new Carmel chimney needs ivy growing over it, or perhaps a Virginia Creeper to turn red in the Fall, or a bougainvillea.

And this picturesque house needs a loving family to make it into a home. Its friendly English styling, its massive fireplace, big dining room, breakfast room, wonderful kitchen, three bedrooms (with casement windows), 2 1/2 baths, carpeting throughout-----every part of it just crying for a family to enjoy.

And so close to the Carmel schools, and in such a sunny location, and you could have possession right away. In plenty of time to get the vine planted on the chimney yet this spring!

NORBERG TRAVEL SERVICE

Gunnar Norberg

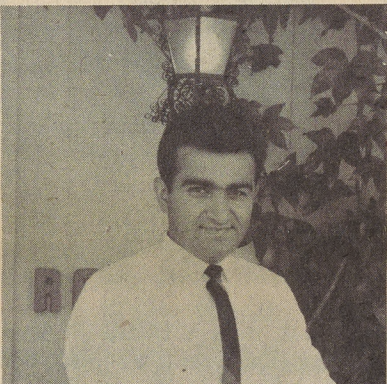

A Carmel organization that is performing a highly personalized and functional service for the Monterey Peninsula is Norberg Travel Service. The agency, located in the Pine Cone Building, is under the owner-management of Gunnar Norberg who is himself one of the most widely traveled individuals in the area. There are many travel bureaus from which to choose, but knowledgeable and capable planning of the Norberg staff has given this travel service a commanding lead in public acceptance since its advent into business a quarter century ago.

Norberg Travel Service efficiently and rapidly make all reservations for individual tours and quick business trips anywhere in the world and also have outstanding facilities for planning special group tours and ocean cruises. As an authorized agent for major steamship lines as well as both domestic and international air lines, Norberg Travel Service is able to provide full information and make reservations in minimal time.

Gunnar Norberg is to be commended for his policies in the operation of his far reaching travel organization just as he is to be highly regarded as the community spirited citizen that he is. One of the foremost business and civic leaders in the area, Mr. Norberg has earned the respect and friendship of the community at large.

PERNILLE RESTAURANT

In an area so known for distinguished restaurants, a favorite of local residents is Pernille Restaurant in the heart of Carmel at the corner of 6th and San Carlos. Open for breakfast at 7:30 a.m. and serving through the day until 8:30 p.m., the Pernille Restaurant at all times possesses a distinctive charm with an Old World flavor.

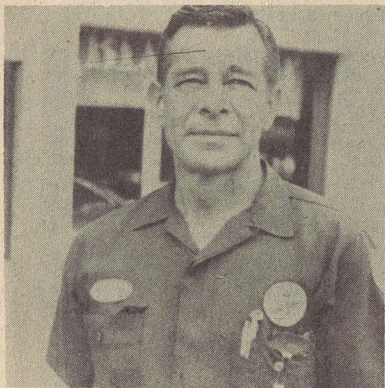

Fred Fozounmayeh

From the spotless kitchen to the dining room decor to the courteous and efficient staff the talents and spirit of owner and host Fred Fozounmayeh are evident. It is his wish that every patron be treated with the respect and courtesy due an honored guest. This combined with the excellence of the Pernille Restaurant's cuisine makes dining here an enjoyable experience.

Having enjoyed the hospitality and memorable food of the Pernille Restaurant, this writer is glad to recommend both to our readers. Further, we would like to make mention of Mr. Fozounmayeh not only as a major contributor to the culinary reputation of the Monterey Peninsula but also as an active and dedicated citizen of our area.

LEIDIG'S TEXACO SERVICE

Dale Leidig

Among the service stations which have won approval of the public as well as the laudation of the many motorists they have served is Leidig's Texaco Automotive Repair Service at San Carlos and 7th in Carmel. No sooner does a motorist pull into Leidig's than he is greeted with a smile, and in a friendly and helpful manner had all his motoring needs attended to.

Everything from the famed Texaco gasoline in the tank, to the checking of the under-the-hood points, the proper tire inflation and the cleaning of glass is cheerfully done by the trained attendants. Add to this the fact that Leidig's has one of the most competent and reliable mechanical departments and you have the reason for the singular success of this station. In the mechanical department, factory specified grease charts are closely followed to catch all points of wear and every bit of mechanical work from engine analysis and tune up to motor work and brake service is done by top notch mechanics.

Dale Leidig has done a top flight job in leading his Texaco Automotive Repair Service to its position of prominence in one of the most competitive fields of business today. He is also a respected member of those residents who have displayed a civic awareness and has been known to contribute to projects of a worthwhile community nature, thus joining the ranks of those individuals aiding our progress and growth.

Valleyite SGM John Koon retires after 26 years

by PVT. LEONARD ROOS

A cold bowl of fruit salad on a hot day and a friendly private standing guard duty at Ft. Sill, Okla., led to a 26-year Army career for SGM John C. Koon.

Hitch-hiking through the Sooner State, Koon waited by a gate at Ft. Sill for his next ride. Seeing that the 17-year-old traveler was both hot and tired, a private standing guard duty offered Koon a cold bowl of fruit salad and a cup of coffee. Two months later, in 1940, Koon joined the Army.

Ending a career which began in Panama with recruit training in the 5th Inf., SGM Koon's last assignment was as 3rd Bde. operations sergeant here.

Fighting beside French and British soldiers, SGM Koon's first taste of combat was in the European Theater during World War II. He received British Jump Wings in Swinden, England, in 1944, and became a member of the jump-qualified 2nd Ranger Bn. which trained with the British Commandos.

SGM Koon served in Korea from 1956-58, and later acted as an advisor to the Chinese Army on Taiwan. He has had two tours of duty in Viet Nam and one in Okinawa during his more than a quarter of a century of service.

Because of the many years he has spent there, SGM Koon has a great interest in the history and customs of Asia and its people. He is multi-lingual, learning a new language with each assignment. He learned Chinese at the former Army Language School and Vietnamese in 1963 at DLI. He is familiar with Korean, Japanese and four dialects of Mandarin Chinese, in addition to French and Spanish.

His retirement plans include the publishing of an Oriental cook book and establishment of an Oriental artifacts store in Carmel Valley.

Among his decorations SGM

FINAL MEMENTOS of his days in the Army are admired by John Koon and his wife, Shirley, after his recent retirement. The plaque was presented from the Association of Senior Sergeants of the Third Battalion along with the chrome plated bayonet with infantry blue handle decorated with the Fort Ord training center crest and a brass plate bearing Koon's name.

Koon wears the Silver Star, the Bronze Star Medal with V device, the Purple Heart with two oak leaf clusters and the Combat Infantryman Badge with star.
